

Strongly agree	agree	Disagree	Strongly disagree
	1. A multicultural education curriculum should be in place in every school.
	Families should not be expected to be involved in classroom activities
1. All learning programs should accommodate all children with special needs.
	1. Some extended family members may confuse children, so they should not have a voice in raising or educating the child.
	1. My curriculum should be based on each individual child's current interests.
			1. Diversity definitely includes race and culture, but doesn't include age, ability or family make-up.
		1. Media in general delivers fair and accurate accounts of events around the country.
		1. The United States should discontinue relations with countries that engage in human rights violations.

POINT OF VIEW

The US engages in human rights violations all the time. Depending on the violation, of course, it would be hypocritical of us to turn away from those who violate their citizens rights when we turn around and do the same thing. First we much work on ourselves.

Media is not always fair and accurate. Many media outlets spread lies and false equivalencies and are praised for being just. Media bias exists and is rampant, especially in the US. So many things can influences a persons' point of view. Where they live, their education, their upbringing, their income, their political leanings. Bias exists everywhere, but it's important to always be learning new information.